

UCI ROAD TO REINVENTION:

a one-day conference for Executives on Leadership in the Digital Age

Diana McKenzie
Former SVP and CIO
Workday and Board Director, MetLife and Change Healthcare

Diana McKenzie was the Chief Information Officer at Workday. She oversaw the global information services (IS) organization, with responsibility for the internal deployment of Workday products as well as other innovative technologies and programs that create a competitive advantage for the company and serve as best-practices to IS organizations globally.

Prior to joining Workday, Diana was senior vice president and CIO at Amgen, where she spent 12 years applying leading-edge analytics and information technology (IT) to further the company's innovation and market position. Preceding Amgen, Diana served in a variety of IT leadership roles at Eli Lilly and Company.

During her nearly three decades of experience, Diana has been an active leader in various trade, technology, and governmental organizations and in 2015, was recognized as one of the "Top 50 Most Powerful Women in Technology" by the National Diversity Council.

Diana holds a bachelor's degree in computer information systems from Purdue University.

Articles:

Diana McKenzie Is Workday's Board-Level CIO (Forbes, February 25, 2019)

Change Healthcare Names Diana McKenzie to Board of Directors (Business Wire, July 16, 2019)

Workday CIO Diana McKenzie on building inclusion into a firm's DNA (CIO From IDG, November 19, 2018)

Workday's Diana McKenzie: 'Happy employees make for happy customers' (Silicon Republic, July 6, 2018)

Workday's First Ever CIO Is A Product-Centric Driver of the Future of Work (Forbes, August 22, 2016)

How To Make Digital Transformation A Reality (Forbes, March 22, 2019) – written by McKenzie herself

Video:

Workday Rising Business Leadership Forum: The Evolution of the CIO (Workday)

Diana McKenzie: Why CIOs Need To Be More Customer Facing (Forbes, May 16, 2018)